Art Unit: 1634

Applicant's election of Group II, claims 15-21 and 24 in the reply filed on April 22, 2008 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claims 1-14 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on April 22, 2008.

The information disclosure statement filed November 7, 2006 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered. EP 0 742 286 has not been considered.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 15-21 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims are vague and indefinite.

- (a) The recitation of "universal control" (claim 15) is vague and indefinite because the term is not defined in the application and because there is no clear art-recognized meaning for the term.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 1634

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 15-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Dale et al (WO 00/070093). Dale et al disclose microarrays that include all of the limitations mentioned in the instant claims (e.g., see Dale et al, pages 13-21). The general nature of the molecules intended to be detected (i.e., short RNA fragments) does not distinguish the claimed arrays from those of the prior art.

Claims 21, 21, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dale et al (WO 00/070093) in view of Houthoff et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,133, 038). The discussion of Dale et al above is incorporated here. Houthoff et al teaches the use of platinum compounds as labels in nucleic acid molecular hybridization assays (e.g., Abstract, column 2, line 30 through column 8, line 5, column 8, line 24 through column 10, line 50, and claims 1-7) and the collection of materials for performing assays into kits for convenience (e.g., column 2, lines 29-40, column 4, line 65 through column 7, line 67, and claims 1-4). It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the platinum compounds of Houthoff et al in the microarray assays of Dale et al for the expected result of detection of hybridized nucleic acids. It would further have been obvious to collect all of the materials needed to perform such assays into kit form for convenience as taught by Houthoff et al.
